

Theodóra Hannesdóttir Cleemann, MD

Theodóra Hannesdóttir Cleemann is an MD, specialist of Neurology. Received her medical degree from the medical faculty of the University of Copenhagen in 2009. Joined the Danish specialist programme of Neurology in January 2013, completed in February 2017.

Theodóra works as a specialist of Neurology at the Neurological Department in Bispebjerg University Hospital, Copenhagen; focusing on the diagnosis and treatment of Movement Disorders and Motorneurone Disease, including treatment of neck, limb, facial and vocal dystonia as well as spasticity with botulinum toxin in the Clinic for Botulinum toxin treatment alongside Torben Dalager and Heidi Bryde Biernat.