

Sebastian Schröder, MD

Dr. Schröder is working as a Pediatrician at the Dr. von Hauner Children's Hospital, University of Munich. Dr. Schröder has experience in treating children with spasticity and dystonia including botulinum toxin since 2003. He is head of the movement disorder outpatient clinic.

His research foci are:

- Musculoskeletal ultrasound
- Focal effects of botulinum toxin in healthy and spastic adult and pediatric skeletal muscle
- Robotic gait-therapy in children
- Movement analysis in infancy.

Dr. Schröder is actually co-investigator in 5 clinical trials, up to date has supervised more than 10 doctoral theses, four master theses and one PhD student.

Amongst other, Dr. Schröder is a member of the American Academy of Cerebral Palsy and Developmental Medicine (AACPD, only European Member of the research steering committee), the German Society of Pediatric Neurology (GNP) and is a lecturer of the University of Munich.

Dr. Schröder has published 16 original full publications as first or last author, has co-authored more than 40 original papers, 8 book-chapters and more than 150 posters, oral presentations and workshops.